

Ever in my thoughts

You are ever in my thoughts, though parted we must be,
Side by side we walk along the path of memory.
In the land of heart's desire, we live and laugh
and love.
The future bright before us, and a cloudless sky
above.

I cannot hear your voice, or take your hand in mine today,
But none can rob me of my dreams, or take my hope away.
Our lives once closely linked together, now lie
far apart.
But you are ever in my thoughts, and ever in my heart.
